CHAIRMAN

TENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

IN accordance with the rules, the Committee now present their Report for 1861; and in doing so, they desire to express their thankfulness to Almighty God for the success which, in his good providence, has attended the operations of the Institution during the year.

A full Return of the Vital Statistics of the Institution, together with the Financial Statement, is appended; but it may be well to mention here some of the leading particulars, which are as follow:—On the 31st December, 1860, 95 inmates remained in the Institution—64 in the Infirmary, and 31 in the Benevolent Asylum. During 1861, 687 were admitted to the Infirmary, and 37 to the Benevolent Asylum; making 819 who have been inmates of the Institution during the year, being an increase of 127 over the previous year: of this number, 660 have been discharged cured or greatly relieved; 65 died; and 94 remained on 31st December, 1861, (60 in the Infirmary, and 34 in the Benevolent Asylum). 1632 Out-patients have also been admitted, an increase of 902 over the number in the previous year. 2450 persons have thus received the benefits of the Institution in 1861. The daily average number of Patients in the house has been 109, and the daily average attendance of Out-patients 52. The number of Patients now in the house, January 23rd, is 133.

It is gratifying that though a greater number of Patients have been admitted, the mortality has been much less than in the previous year, which was also favorable in this respect, and this notwithstanding the usual number of accidents known to be fatal, and of cases in a moribund condition have been admitted.

The prevailing diseases have been—Chronic Rheumatism, 79; Consumption, 31; Bronchitis, 23; Disease of Heart, 13; Cancer, 16; Ulcer, 34; Abscess, 22; Debility, 27; Stricture, 25; &c. And 34 Cases of Fracture; 25 of Wounds; and 25 of Contusions, were admitted.

As in former years the list of Patients embraces persons of different creeds and countries. It contains 286 of the Church of England; 244 Roman Catholic; 76 Presbyterian; 35 Wesleyan; 8 Independent; 7 Baptist; 1 Quaker; 26 Lutherans; 4 Calvinists; 3 Jews; 1 Bible Christian; 3 Mahomedans. Others professing no religion.

The receipts from all sources were £7164 5s.; and the disbursements £5406 6s. 10d.; the expenditure being less than in the previous year. The balance in hand, including £162 paid in advance for 1862, is £1595 14s. Of this an amount of £250 15s. 2d., is due on an invoice of drugs and surgical outfit to arrive from England. The average cost of each Patient has been greatly reduced, and is now for the In-patients under £5. An abstract of accounts is appended, and a detailed statement lies on the table for perusal. It will be observed that the Committee found it necessary to expend upwards of £250 in repairing and painting the Institution.

The Committee desire to express their thanks to the many liberal donors whose names appear in the list published herewith, and also to those gentlemen who have contributed Books and Papers to the Library; and to the Bible Society for a donation of forty bibles and testaments.

At the last Annual Meeting some alterations were made in the Rules relating to the Honorary Medical Staff; and the Committee expressed a hope that they would be found to work well. This hope has been realized as the harmonious and economic working of the management and the result of the treatment of the Patients amply testify.

To Messrs. Shaw and Walshe, the consulting medical officers, who again offer their services, the thanks of the Subscribers and the Committee are very justly due.

The several officers continue to fulfil their respective duties to the satisfaction of the Committee; and the popularity of the Institution may be judged of by the numerous applications for admission for treatment, in several cases from many parts of the country where similar institutions exist.

In conclusion, the Committee desire to state that nothing has occurred during the year to mar the prosperity and usefulness of the Institution. They have endeavoured to discharge the duties of the trust imposed on them so as to ensure an economic and at the same time effective system of management; and they trust they have succeeded to the satisfaction of the Subscribers.
